NEWS AND VIEWS...

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

See in the newspapers where AFL-CIO President George Meany wants new antitrust legislation to break up the giant oil companies and place them under strict government regulations.

The AFL-CIO president and his executive council wants the government to break up our large oil companies and in fact wants to nationalize the oil industry.

Now it just seems strange to us for the largest single economical organization in this country to want antitrust legislation in this area of our economy. How about some antitrust legislation to break up the stranglehold that this giant labor union holds on our country.

Why is it that corporations are forbidden from contributing to political campaigns but this large union can pour unlimited funds into political campaigns without the slightest hint of wrongdoing?

But this call for nationalization of our oil industry is only one of the many attacks being made on what we call the American Way of Life—the total product of our system of political and economic freedom. This system of ours is under more serious attack today from forces within our own society than it has ever been from any foreign aggressor.

The federal government has taken over more and more of our economic system and we are fast approaching the point where only this huge federal government of ours can come up with the solutions to our problems.

Some day soon the American people are going to have to decide if they want to continue to operate under a free economic system or if they want to switch to complete government controls. As the government moves into more and more areas of our economy, it becomes harder and harder for the remaining segments to operate freely.

Right now, wheat farmers are keeping a wary eye on the price of wheat, because it appears that it is headed downward, not because there is not a worldwide market for wheat, but because the government insists upon curbing exports of wheat in a deliberate effort to knock the price down and eventually cause a lowering of the price of bread.

The oil industry in this area has a weather eye on legislation designed to roll back prices of gas and oil, keep a price lid on them, or tax the production of this fuel. This means that the producers can be hurt, and hurt badly, not because they are producing something without a market value, but because politicians decree what the price shall be.

Senator Henry Jackson of Washington, a presidential candidate, is promoting a National Energy Production Board which would control exploration and development of all petroleum reserves on public lands, including offshore, with authority to set prices and select which refiners could buy the oil.

Other powerful senators, including Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts and Phillip Hart of Michigan, are taking an even more direct approach to socialism. Their bill would establish a federal oil and gas corporation in direct tax-exempt competition with private companies. This agency would also control oil prices and all foreign oil purchases.

This nationalization of the oil industry is endorsed by AFL-CIO chief George Meany, whose union operates under a federal security blanket which guarantees high

Jones County Grand Jury Returns 10 Indictments

ANSON—A newly-empowered 104th District Court grand jury returned 10 felony indictments, including one for attempted murder, Thursday.

Grand jurors "no-billed" (refused to indict) a second man charged with attempted murder, but recommended that the charge be refilled as misdemeanor assault. They also "no-billed" an Anson man on a child rape charge.

Jose Moreno of Hamlin was indicted for attempted murder in connection with a Jan. 25 incident in which Albert Villarreal Jr., 19, of Abilene, was shot in the arm during a dance at the Jaycee building in Hamlin.

Grand jurors recommended the attempted murder charges against James Clinton Johnson, 37, of 410 Burger in Abilene, be reduced to misdemeanor assault.

Johnson had been charged with cutting and stabbing Robert Gerald Fairfield, 40, of 309 Amarillo in Abilene, during an altercation at 905 S. Anson in Stamford on Feb. 5.

Grand jurors "no-billed" Benito Alvarez Reyna, 27, of Anson, who had been charged with "rape of a child" in connection with a Dec. 20 incident involving a 10-year-old Anson girl.

Three persons were indicted for forgery in two separate cases. Adam Mendez and Tom S. Sanchez, both of Fort Hood, were charged with forging the name of John Swenson of Stamford to an $85 check passed Jan. 18 at a Stamford dry good store. Lois Little, 18, of Plainview, was charged with forging a $9.85 check at an Anson service station.

Indicted for driving while intoxicated (DWI), second offense, were Douglas Koonce, 41, of Hamlin; Richard Dale Rea, 42, of 1359 Cedar in Abilene; Travis Eugene Allen, 30 of Coleman; Larry Monroe Goodgame, 55, of Hamlin and Fred Russell Hymers, 61, of Anson.

Mrs. A. V. Womack of Anson was appointed foreman of the new Jones County grand jury by 104th Judge J. Neil Daniel. Asst. Criminal Dist. Atty. Patricia Elliott presented information on the cases to the grand jury.

Sen. Farabee Sponsors Rural Industrial Development Bill

Austin—State Senator Ray Farabee announced Monday his co-sponsorship of legislation which would "put State law on the side of rural industrial development."

The legislation calls for a referendum on a constitutional amendment allowing the issuance of industrial development bonds. These bonds could be issued by political subdivisions of the state such as cities and counties. They would make available financing for new or expanding industry at tax free municipal bond rates which are usually 1 1/2 to 2 percent below prime commercial rates.

Farabee stressed that these revenue bonds would not be backed by the general credit of the political subdivision issuing the bond. Since the liability for revenue bonds is not based on the taxing ability of the city or county, taxes would be unaffected by the issuance of these bonds.

Senator Farabee also explained that home rule municipalities can design their charters to allow the issuance of revenue bonds. Counties and small non-home rule cities, however, are currently prevented by the State Constitution from issuing such bonds. Farabee further stated, "It is time we stopped tying the hands of our smaller communities in the area of industrial development."

At present 44 other states, including all states bordering Texas, use industrial bonds to attract industry.

The Texas Industrial Commission, citing the latest survey by a national organization of state development agencies, noted that "the 457 revenue bonds issued in one year helped create 47,000 new jobs. These jobs were mostly in nonmetropolitan areas, and the majority of the plants financed by this method employed less than 100 people."

Senator Bill Patman-D of Ganado is sponsoring the legislation with Senator Farabee.

Health Tips Texas Medical Association

Infectious mononucleosis — often called just "Mono" — is a widespread ailment that mostly affects teenagers and young adults and is often found among college students.

Mono is quite accurately called the "Kissing Disease," reports the Texas Medical Association. Physicians observed 20 years ago that the disease was spread primarily by prolonged, passionate kissing. A few cases seem to have been spread by the communal use of drinking utensils, and there have been sporadic cases following blood transfusions.

Despite legends to the contrary, mono is a benign disease. Among millions of cases, only a few rare fatalities have occurred. However, it is highly unpleasant, producing weakness, dizziness, fever, aching joints, swollen glands, skin rash, and mental depression.

Although mono is one of the nastiest diseases around, it never causes permanent damage and almost never produces prolonged convalescence. Most patients are back in perfect health within two or three weeks. There is neither prevention or cure available, and the mainstay of treatment continues to be rest, fluids and mild pain relievers.

Mono, a virus disease, is not easily communicable, usually requiring close, intimate contact. One attack usually produces lifetime immunity. If there is a "recurrence," the illness most likely is something else.

wages and in all but 17 states requires union membership before a person can get a job at all.

Nobody in his right mind could want to see the government take over the nation's oil business. The government doesn't know how to operate a business, and has no successful project it has ever completed in that area.

Some 22 years ago it cost a penny to ship a gallon of oil or a postcard from Texas to New York. Today the oil can still be shipped for a penny but the postcard requires 8 cents.

If the government runs the petroleum industry like it does the postal business, do you think consumers would get a bigger bargain?

As this huge government of ours moves more and more into every segment of our economy in the guise of protecting the consumer, it at the same time is taking a bigger and bigger take of the consumer's dollar through taxes.

In the past 25 years the tax bite on an American worker has grown from 1 percent to over 13 percent just to pay federal income taxes and social security payments. And this does not include the hidden taxes imposed on us by big brother.

In 1974, reports the Joint Economic Committee of Congress, income taxes for a family with $14,466 in income rose 26.5 percent, while Social Security taxes jumped 21.6 percent. This compared to a 14.3 percent rise in transportation cost, a 13.5 percent hike in housing prices, and an 11.9 percent rise in the cost of food.

NEINDA PHILOSOPHER—
Thinks He Has Found the Proper Kind Of Employment For the Economists

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One discusses economists this week, without much luck.

Dear editor:

An economist in boom times is like a coach with good material and a winning season—everybody hails him as a smart hombre and wants to give him a raise, but let a recession set in or the material play out and the public turns thumbs down in a hurry.

With times what they are, I guess the reputations of the country's economists are in the worst shape they've ever been in. You know, one says the way to stabilize things is to balance the budget, another says forget the budget, cut the taxes; another says yeah, cut taxes by 12 billion dollars, another says no, cut them by 20 billion. One says things will get better in the third quarter of the year, another says he sees improvement by the fourth quarter, another says it won't happen till 1976, another won't answer his phone and hopes nobody remembers what his prediction was.

But not a one that I can find told us six months ago what was fixing to take place right now.

In other words, economists, if you listen to enough of them, turn out to be as confused as the rest of us. In short, they're in the wrong profession, and I got to thinking.

Now we've got enough unemployment as it is without adding all the economists to the ranks, so I've been trying to figure out what other line of work they'd be suited for and I have come up with the answer: they ought to become weather forecasters, where nobody expects you to be right more than 10 per cent of the time.

But, you may argue, wouldn't that throw the regular weather forecasters out of work?

Come to think of it, I guess it would, which just goes to show that I don't know anymore about solving the country's economic plight than anybody else you're hearing from. I know so little about it I'm almost Congressional material.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

America in its early days depended on the "GOOD BOOK" for its guide in ethics, worship, and pursuit of freedom. These early gains are now in danger of falling and we need to turn all America once again to God and His word. America can be strong only when each individual looks to God for strength.

Democratic Executive Committee Holds Meeting

The 30th Senatorial District Democratic Executive, comprised of the Democratic Party Chairmen in each of the 29 counties of the district, met in Seymour, Monday, Feb. 17.

Marvin L. Price Jr., of Wilbarger County, was elected Chairman of the Executive Committee, with J. B. Cooper Jr., Nolan County, Vice Chairman, and Calvin Gambill, Baylor County, Secretary.

Meeting was called by Charles W. Stenholm, District Committeeman, and Mrs. James Snyder, District Committeewoman, both of whom encouraged active and involved participation in the Democratic Party.

Lynn Darden and Ms. Joyce Powers both of Wichita Falls, who were representatives of the district at the Democratic Mini-Convention, which met at Kansas City last December, presented the program, explaining new rules adopted at the convention.

Action taken by the Executive Committee included an unanimous endorsement of Senator Lloyd Bentsen as a candidate for the Presidency of the United States in 1976, and endorsement of the bill of Representative Tom Schieffer, which calls for the establishment of a Party Primary in Texas.

They also recommended support of an amendment to the Texas Election Code, requiring registrants for voting certificates to declare their party affiliation or independent status and that voting lists stating such affiliation be sent to the appropriate primary voting places. Also strongly recommended was the $1.00 check-off on income tax returns for each spouse, designating this for the

Presidential Election Campaign Fund.

100,000 BARRELS A DAY

The Lucas Gusher which brought in the fabulous Spindletop Oil Field jetted a geyser of oil 200 feet in the air and flowed up to 100,000 barrels a day. Today that torrent of oil is scarcely a trickle and a monument commemorates a lusty era when for a time drinking water sold for more than oil. Now, 70% of the oil is in the middle east and the price is monumental. This means higher fuel costs, higher electric generating costs, higher electric bills.

But as times change there is one constant! The electric cooperative for more than 30 years has delivered power at its lowest possible price. That promise still holds today.

REDDY'S REFRIGERATOR SAVINGS TIPS

- Return fresh foods to the refrigerator and frozen foods, such as ice cream, to the freezer as soon as possible. Measure and remove the quantity needed for cooking or for the table, and refrigerate the remainder at once.
- Use cold controls efficiently by selecting the settings that provide about 36° F. in the refrigerator and 0° F. in the freezer.
- Fill the refrigerator with food, but be careful not to overfill. Make sure that food packages don't block air vents in the freezer or refrigerator section.
- Clean the condenser surfaces of the refrigerator; dirt restricts air flow and acts to insulate the condenser, forcing the refrigerator to work harder and longer to maintain proper temperatures.

Churches debate women's role

By REV. W. LEE TRUMAN
Copley News Service

The major question before the institutional church is that of ordination. The crux is, "Is it a cross that women should be allowed to bear?"

Eleven women were ordained in the Episcopal priesthood with strong opposition of the majority of that church's lay and clerical leadership. This has forced other sacramental-oriented churches to deal with the issue of women as clergy and to define their place in the ecclesiastical structure.

The traditional arguments against ordaining women are not hard to state. The Bible instructs us to call God "Father." This has been interpreted to mean God is male (even though God is spirit), and therefore God's ministers are to be male. Jesus called twelve men to be His apostles.

Man was created first with the view to serving and fel-lowshipping with God. Woman was created to be man's help-mate, to serve man, and alleviate his loneliness, according to the second story of creation in Genesis. In short, the Book points out that God ordained certain roles for men and other roles for women.

The greatest part of this attitude is a reinforcement of the Bible's position by the church fathers, such as St. John Chrysostom (345-407), St. Thomas Aquinas (1225-74) and Martin Luther (1483-1546).

"Men have broad shoulders, narrow hips, and accordingly they possess intelligence. Women have narrow shoulders and broad hips. The way they were created indicates that women ought to stay at home, for they can keep house and bear and raise children," Luther said.

It seems that the institutional churches have paid more attention to the words of these church fathers than to the detail of the Scriptures.

We speak of "God, He," but there is a feminine view of God also if you read the Bible closely. In the first creation account given in Genesis, it says that the male and female were created in the image of God.

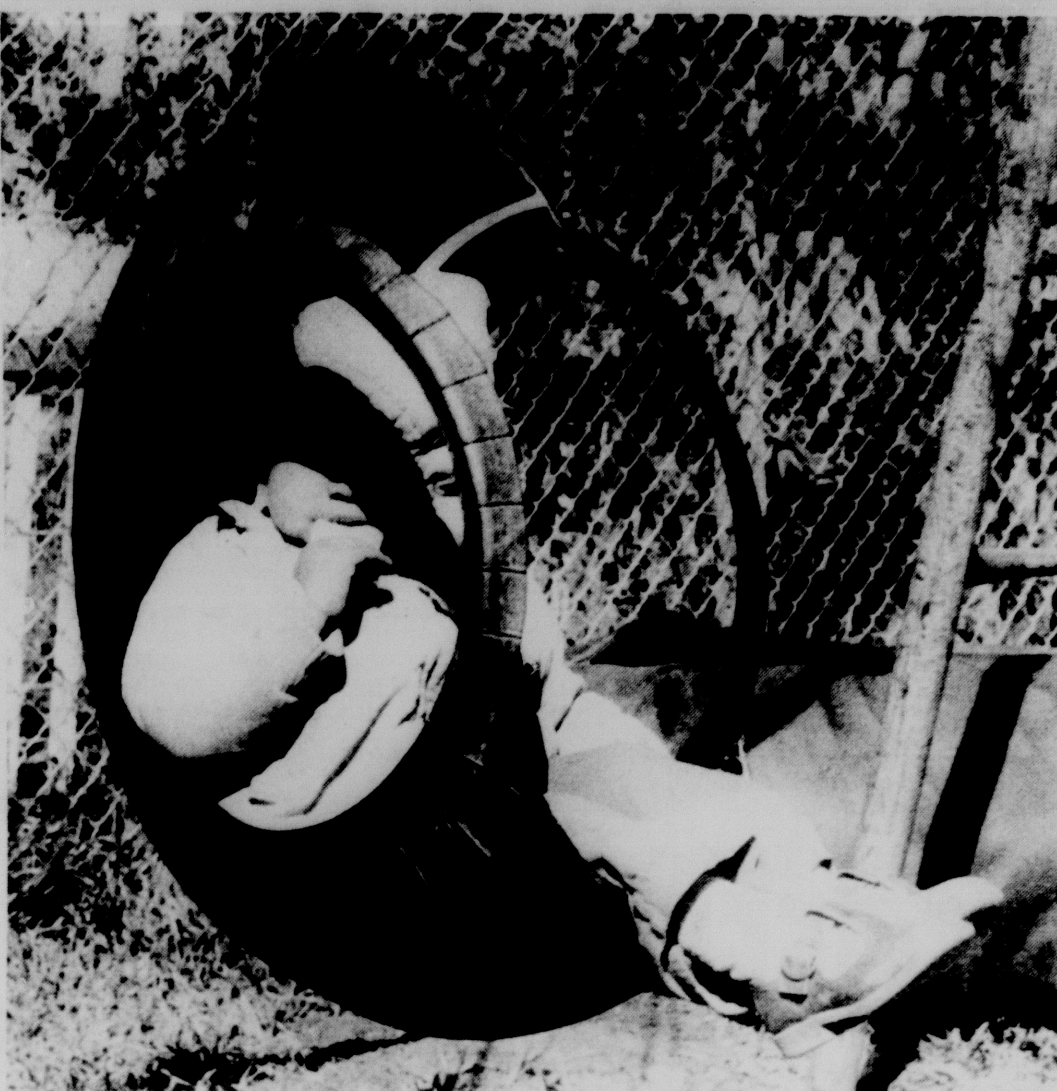

The femininity of God is also noted in the word "wisdom," which is spoken of as an entity of itself — a divine attribute — and the word is "Hokmah" which is of the feminine gender. Therefore, it is grammatically necessary to refer to Divine Wisdom as female. An interesting hot potato for the total male position.

The International Standard Bible Encyclopedia notes that "in almost all respects, women in the Bible appeared to have been considered the equal of men and to have discharged the same civil, religious and even military function. There are Sarah, Esther, Ruth, Hannah, Abigail, Tachel, Serah, Puah, and Tamar who played major roles in the unfolding story of revelation."

The majority of main-line Protestant denominations do ordain women. The Congregational body was the first to do so, but, since 1960, the percentage of the women they have elected to national boards and agencies has steadily decreased. Only one woman is head of a national agency for that denomination.

The subject of the ecclesiastical structures are facing is what they call a matter of justice — confirming women as whole persons along with men. The church leaders see they have long followed society in treating women as inferior human beings — and to be barred from ordination perpetuates this tradition. This is the issue of the 11 ordained women of the Episcopal church.

The women when ordained said: "Women are learning to say, along with Peter and John, that they chose to obey God rather than men. When the church recognizes and acknowledges the fact that God calls human beings — men and women — to the ministry, human beings in the image of God, both male and female, then God's will can be done on earth as it is in heaven."

NEW PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT—This old tire was made into useful playground equipment by members of Future Farmers of America for the use of the children at the Hamlin Day Care Center. Thirty-four children are now enrolled at the center that will observe its first anniversary in July.

MORE GARDEN TIPS—

Prepare Soil Properly

Nothing can dampen the enthusiasm of the beginning gardener more quickly than a hard-to-manage soil. Home gardeners have more problems with unfavorable soil conditions than any other single item. So, the first item of business as far as gardening is concerned is to get the soil in shape says Kirby Clayton, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Few home gardeners in Jones County have ideal soil conditions, but the situation can be improved by adding organic matter. Material such as compost, peat moss, manure or sawdust can be added in large amounts. Organic matter will make heavy clay soils more mellow and easier to work and improve soil drainage and air movement to allow the soil to warm up earlier in the spring. On light sandy soil, the addition of organic matter helps hold moisture and nutrients in the plant root zone.

Proper soil preparation by incorporating organic matter also helps vegetable plants develop a sufficient root system which directly affects yields.

Enough organic matter must be added to physically change the structure of the soil, points out Clayton. At least one-third of the final soil mix should be some type of organic matter. To accomplish this, Clayton suggests spreading a layer of organic matter over the soil to a depth of at least two inches and then working it into the soil to a depth of at least six inches.

The best time to add organic matter to the garden is during the early stages of soil preparation.

When adding organic matter, increase the amount of fertilizer added to the garden soil to help break down the additional organic matter. Without additional nitrogen, a deficiency may occur. Nitrogen deficiency generally shows up as a yellowing of younger garden plants. For every 10 cubic feet of organic matter added, Clayton suggests applying an additional one-half pound of nitrogen. This means that if you apply 10 cubic feet of cotton burs and additional 5 pounds of fertilizer such as 10-10-10 should be added (5 x .10 = .5).

So, spend a little more time getting the garden soil into shape this spring, advises Clayton. The result will be increased yields and returns at harvest time.

10 Complete Typing Course

The basic typing course offered here by the Texas State Technical Institute was concluded with 10 persons fulfilling requirements for a certificate.

The successful typists are Merline Berry, Gloria Cork, Jackie Embrey, Patsy George, Pauline Gillilan, Eloise Hertel, Nonia Hunter, May Kohout, Pat Stubblefield and Peggy Willis.

In the fall more courses in business may be offered in Hamlin if there is enough interest, beginning with Typing II.

LET'S COOK—

Lightweight Beef

Lightweight or forage fed beef is gaining consumer acceptance. This is due partly to the lower price of this product, according to Mrs. Nedy Wilburn, Assistant County Extension Agent.

In lightweight beef, there is a reduction of marbling and fat covering which affects flavor and juiciness. However, on a lean for lean basis the nutrition is the same as grain fed or heavy beef.

The preparation and cooking of lightweight beef is similar to that of veal. Moist heat methods of cooking are recommended for less tender cuts of lightweight as well as grain fed beef. More tender cuts of lightweight beef can be prepared by dry heat methods of cooking provided the beef is basted with fat. Also marinades are recommended to enhance the flavor of lightweight beef.

A new free publication available from the County

Extension office explains the methods for cooking lightweight beef. You can obtain "Let's Cook Lightweight Beef" by calling Mrs. Wilburn, at 823-3801 or writing Box 688, Anson, Texas 79501.

NEWS AND VIEWS...

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

See in the newspapers where AFL-CIO President George Meany wants new antitrust legislation to break up the giant oil companies and place them under strict government regulations.

The AFL-CIO president and his executive council wants the government to break up our large oil companies and in fact wants to nationalize the oil industry.

Now it just seems strange to us for the largest single economical organization in this country to want antitrust legislation in this area of our economy. How about some antitrust legislation to break up the stranglehold that this giant labor union holds on our country.

Why is it that corporations are forbidden from contributing to political campaigns but this large union can pour unlimited funds into political campaigns without the slightest hint of wrongdoing?

But this call for nationalization of our oil industry is only one of the many attacks being made on what we call the American Way of Life—the total product of our system of political and economic freedom. This system of ours is under more serious attack today from forces within our own society than it has ever been from any foreign aggressor.

The federal government has taken over more and more of our economic system and we are fast approaching the point where only this huge federal government of ours can come up with the solutions to our problems.

Some day soon the American people are going to have to decide if they want to continue to operate under a free economic system or if they want to switch to complete government controls. As the government moves into more and more areas of our economy, it becomes harder and harder for the remaining segments to operate freely.

Right now, wheat farmers are keeping a wary eye on the price of wheat, because it appears that it is headed downward, not because there is not a worldwide market for wheat, but because the government insists upon curbing exports of wheat in a deliberate effort to knock the price down and eventually cause a lowering of the price of bread.

The oil industry in this area has a weather eye on legislation designed to roll back prices of gas and oil, keep a price lid on them, or tax the production of this fuel. This means that the producers can be hurt, and hurt badly, not because they are producing something without a market value, but because politicians decree what the price shall be.

Senator Henry Jackson of Washington, a presidential candidate, is promoting a National Energy Production Board which would control exploration and development of all petroleum reserves on public lands, including offshore, with authority to set prices and select which refiners could buy the oil.

Other powerful senators, including Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts and Phillip Hart of Michigan, are taking an even more direct approach to socialism. Their bill would establish a federal oil and gas corporation in direct tax-exempt competition with private companies. This agency would also control oil prices and all foreign oil purchases.

This nationalization of the oil industry is endorsed by AFL-CIO chief George Meany, whose union operates under a federal security blanket which guarantees high

Jones County Grand Jury Returns 10 Indictments

ANSON—A newly-empowered 104th District Court grand jury returned 10 felony indictments, including one for attempted murder, Thursday.

Grand jurors "no-billed" (refused to indict) a second man charged with attempted murder, but recommended that the charge be refiled as misdemeanor assault. They also "no-billed" an Anson man on a child rape charge.

Jose Moreno of Hamlin was indicted for attempted murder in connection with a Jan. 25 incident in which Albert Villarreal Jr., 19, of Abilene, was shot in the arm during a dance at the Jaycee building in Hamlin.

Grand jurors recommended the attempted murder charges against James Clinton Johnson, 37, of 410 Burger in Abilene, be reduced to misdemeanor assault.

Johnson had been charged with cutting and stabbing Robert Gerald Fairfield, 40, of 309 Amarillo in Abilene, during an altercation at 905 S. Anson in Stamford on Feb. 5.

Grand jurors "no-billed" Benito Alvares Reyna, 27, of Anson, who had been charged with "rape of a child" in connection with a Dec. 20 incident involving a 10-year-old Anson girl.

Three persons were indicted for forgery in two separate cases. Adam Mendez and Tom S. Sanchez, both of Fort Hood, were charged with forging the name of John Swenson of Stamford to an $85 check passed Jan. 18 at a Stamford dry good store. Lois Little, 18, of Plainview, was charged with forging a $9.85 check at an Anson service station.

Indicted for driving while intoxicated (DWI), second offense, were Douglas Koonce, 41, of Hamlin; Richard Dale Rea, 42, of 1359 Cedar in Abilene; Travis Eugene Allen, 30, of Coleman; Larry Monroe Goodgame, 55, of Hamlin and Fred Russell Hymer, 61, of Anson.

Mrs. A. V. Womack of Anson was appointed foreman of the new Jones County grand jury by 104th Judge J. Neil Daniel. Asst. Criminal Dist. Atty. Patricia Elliott presented information on the cases to the grand jury.

Sen. Farabee Sponsors Rural Industrial Development Bill

Austin—State Senator Ray Farabee announced Monday his co-sponsorship of legislation which would "put State law on the side of rural industrial development."

The legislation calls for a referendum on a constitutional amendment allowing the issuance of industrial development bonds. These bonds could be issued by political subdivisions of the state such as cities and counties. They would make available financing for new or expanding industry at tax free municipal bond rates which are usually 1½ to 2 percent below prime commercial rates.

Farabee stressed that these revenue bonds would not be backed by the general credit of the political subdivision issuing the bond. Since the liability for revenue bonds is not based on the taxing ability of the city or county, taxes would be unaffected by the issuance of these bonds.

Senator Farabee also explained that home rule municipalities can design their charters to allow the issuance of revenue bonds. Counties and small non-home rule cities, however, are currently prevented by the State Constitution from issuing such bonds. Farabee further stated, "It is time we stopped tying the hands of our

At present 44 other states, including all states bordering Texas, use industrial bonds to attract industry.

The Texas Industrial Commission, citing the latest survey by a national organization of state development agencies, noted that "the 457 revenue bonds issued in one year helped create 47,000 new jobs. These jobs were mostly in nonmetropolitan areas, and the majority of the plants financed by this method employed less than 100 people."

Senator Bill Patman-D of Ganado is sponsoring the legislation with Senator Farabee.

Health Tips

Texas Medical Association

Infectious mononucleosis — often called just "Mono" — is a widespread ailment that mostly affects teenagers and young adults and is often found among college students.

Mono is quite accurately called the "Kissing Disease," reports the Texas Medical Association. Physicians observed 20 years ago that the disease was spread primarily by prolonged, passionate kissing. A few cases seem to have been spread by the communal use of drinking utensils, and there have been sporadic cases following blood transfusions.

Despite legends to the contrary, mono is a benign disease. Among millions of cases, only a few rare fatalities have occurred. However, it is highly unpleasant, producing weakness, dizziness, fever, aching joints, swollen glands, skin rash, and mental depression.

Although mono is one of the nastiest diseases around, it never causes permanent damage and almost never produces prolonged convalescence. Most patients are back in perfect health within two or three weeks. There is neither prevention or cure available, and the mainstay of treatment continues to be rest, fluids and mild pain relievers.

Mono, a virus disease, is not easily communicable, usually requiring close, intimate contact. One attack usually produces lifetime immunity. If there is a "recurrence," the illness most likely is something else.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grissom, Monty and Russ, spent the weekend in Winters with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Grissom.

wages and in all but 17 states requires union membership before a person can get a job at all.

Nobody in his right mind could want to see the government take over the nation's oil business. The government doesn't know how to operate a business, and has no successful project it has ever completed in that area.

Some 22 years ago it cost a penny to ship a gallon of oil or a postcard from Texas to New York. Today the oil can still be shipped for a penny but the postcard requires 8 cents.

If the government runs the petroleum industry like it does the postal business, do you think consumers would get a bigger bargain?

As this huge government of ours moves more and more into every segment of our economy in the guise of protecting the consumer, it at the same time is taking a bigger and bigger take of the consumer's dollar through taxes.

In the past 25 years the tax bite on an American worker has grown from 1 percent to over 13 percent just to pay federal income taxes and social security payments. And this does not include the hidden taxes imposed on us by big brother.

In 1974, reports the Joint Economic Committee of Congress, income taxes for a family with $14,466 in income rose 26.5 percent, while Social Security taxes jumped 21.6 percent. This compared to a 14.3 percent rise in transportation cost, a 13.5 percent hike in housing prices, and an 11.9 percent rise in the cost of food.

up with the answer: they ought to become weather forecasters, where nobody expects you to be right more than 10 per cent of the time.

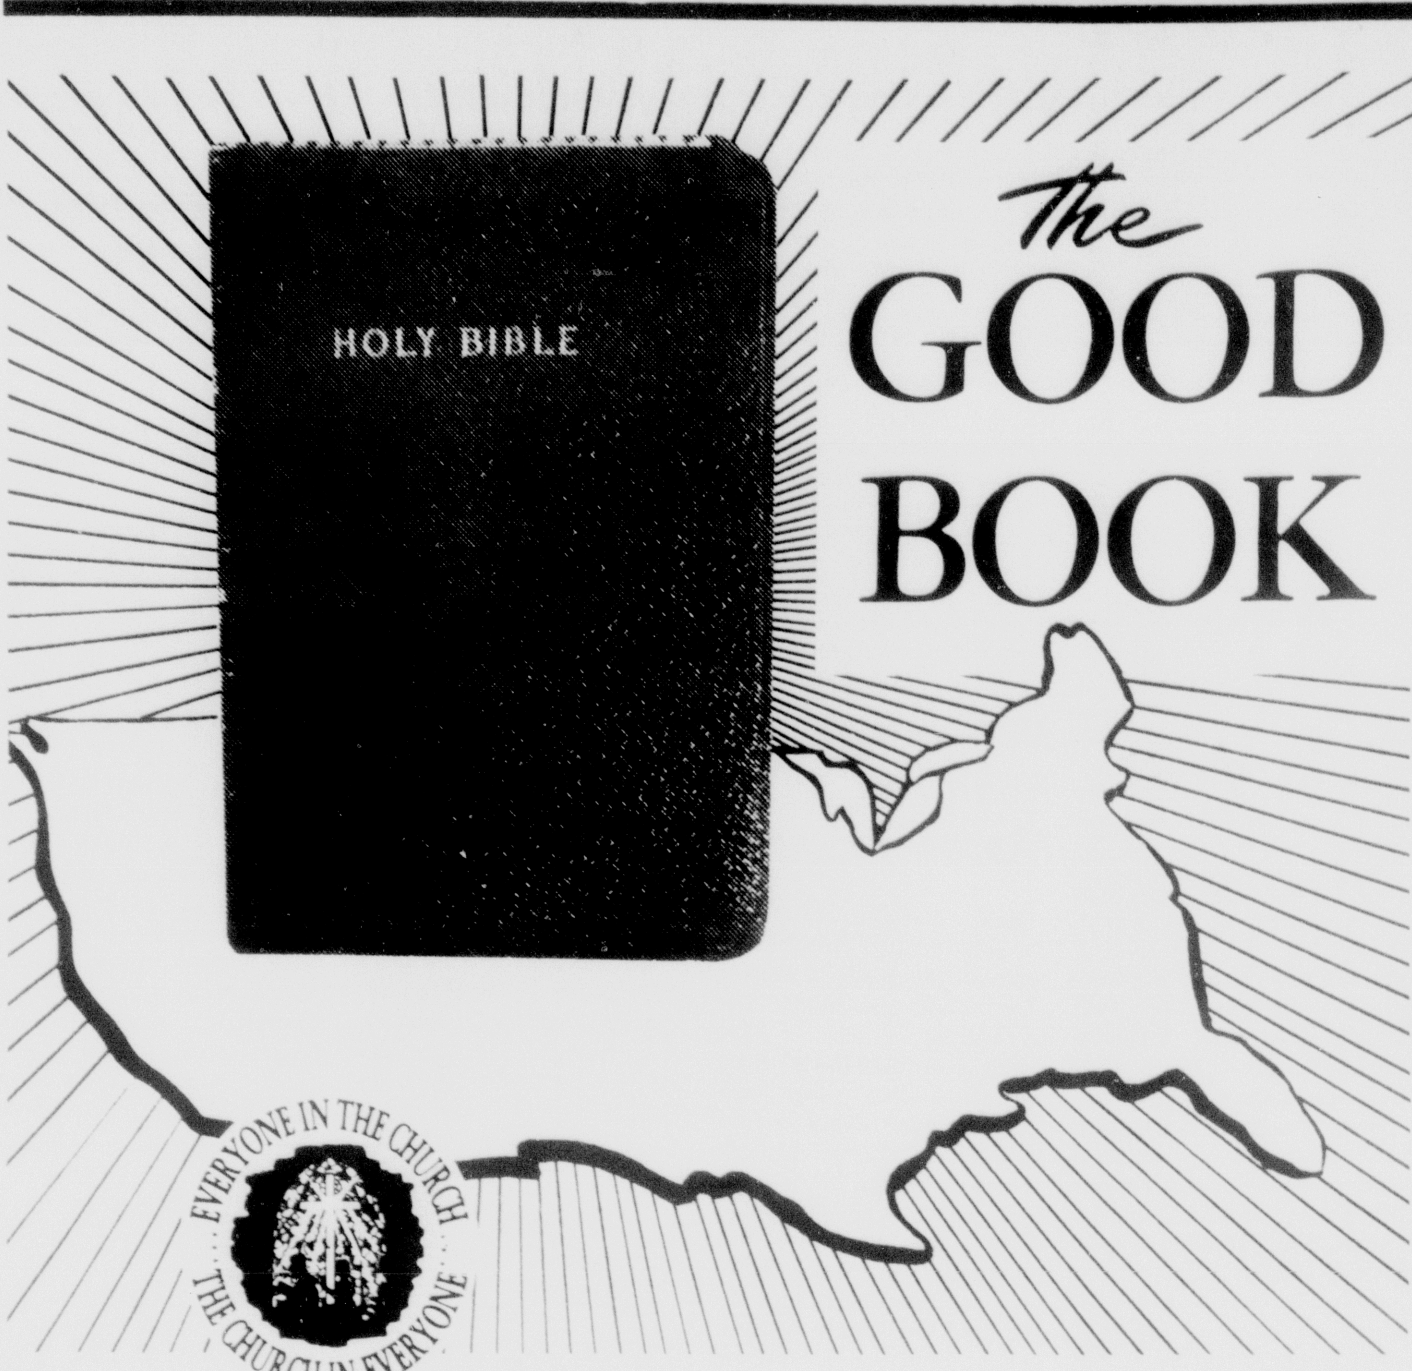

But, you may argue, wouldn't that throw the regular weather forecasters out of work?

Come to think of it, I guess it would, which just goes to show that I don't know anymore about solving the country's economic plight than anybody else you're hearing from. I know so little about it I'm almost Congressional material.

Yours faithfully,

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

America in its early days depended on the "GOOD BOOK" for its guide in ethics, worship, and pursuit of freedom. These early gains are now in danger of falling and we need to turn all America once again to God and His word. America can be strong only when each individual looks to God for strength.

NEINDA PHILOSOPHER—
Thinks He Has Found the Proper Kind
Of Employment For the Economists

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One discusses economists this week, without much luck.

Dear editor:

An economist in boom times is like a coach with good material and a winning season—everybody hails him as a smart hombre and wants to give him a raise, but let a recession set in or the material play out and the public turns thumbs down in a hurry.

With times what they are, I guess the reputations of the country's economists are in the worst shape they've ever been in. You know, one says the way to stabilize things is to balance the budget, another says forget the budget, cut the taxes; another says yeah, cut taxes by 12 billion dollars, another says no, cut them by 20 billion. One says things will get better in the third quarter of the year, another says he sees improvement by the fourth quarter, another says it won't happen till 1976, another won't answer his phone and hopes nobody remembers what his prediction was.

But not a one that I can find told us six months ago what was fixing to take place right now.

In other words, economists, if you listen to enough of them, turn out to be as confused as the rest of us. In short, they're in the wrong profession, and I got to thinking.

Now we've got enough unemployment as it is without adding all the economists to the ranks, so I've been trying to figure out what other line of work they'd be suited for and I have come

Action taken by the Executive Committee included an unanimous endorsement of Senator Lloyd Bentsen as a candidate for the Presidency of the United States in 1976, and endorsement of the bill of Representative Tom Schieffer, which calls for the establishment of a Party Primary in Texas.

They also recommended support of an amendment to the Texas Election Code, requiring registrants for voting certificates to declare their party affiliation or independent status and that voting lists stating such affiliation be sent to the appropriate primary voting places. Also strongly recommended was the $1.00 check-off on income tax returns for each spouse, designating this for the

Presidential Election Campaign Fund.

According to Price, one of the main purposes of the District Executive Com-

The Lucas Gusher which brought in the fabulous Spindletop Oil Field jetted a geyser of oil 200 feet in the air and flowed up to 100,000 barrels a day. Today that torrent of oil is scarcely a trickle and a monument commemorates a lusty era when for a time drinking water sold for more than oil. Now, 70% of the oil is in the middle east and the price is monumental. This means higher fuel costs, higher electric generating costs, higher electric bills.

But as times change there is one constant! The electric cooperative for more than 30 years has delivered power at its lowest possible price. That promise still holds today.

REDDY'S REFRIGERATOR SAVINGS TIPS

- Return fresh foods to the refrigerator and frozen foods, such as ice cream, to the freezer as soon as possible. Measure and remove the quantity needed for cooking or for the table, and refrigerate the remainder at once.
- Use cold controls efficiently by selecting the settings that provide about 36° F. in the refrigerator and 0° F. in the freezer.
- Fill the refrigerator with food, but be careful not to overfill. Make sure that food packages don't block air vents in the freezer or refrigerator section.
- Clean the condenser surfaces of the refrigerator; dirt restricts air flow and acts to insulate the condenser, forcing the refrigerator to work harder and longer to maintain proper temperatures.

Churches debate women's role

By REV. W. LEE TRUMAN
Copley News Service

The major question before the institutional church is that of ordination. The crux is, "Is it a cross that women should be allowed to bear?"

Eleven women were ordained in the Episcopal priesthood with strong opposition of the majority of that church's lay and clerical leadership. This has forced other sacramental-oriented churches to deal with the issue of women as clergy and to define their place in the ecclesiastical structure.

The traditional arguments against ordaining women are not hard to state. The Bible instructs us to call God "Father." This has been interpreted to mean God is male (even though God is spirit), and therefore God's ministers are to be male. Jesus called twelve men to be His apostles. Man was created first with the view to serving and fel-lowshipping with God. Woman was created to be man's helpmate, to serve man, and alleviate his loneliness, according to the second story of creation in Genesis. In short, the Book points out that God ordained certain roles for men and other roles for women.

The greatest part of this attitude is a reinforcement of the Bible's position by the church fathers, such as St. John Chrysostom (345-407), St. Thomas Aquinas (1225-74) and Martin Luther (1483-1546).

"Men have broad shoulders, narrow hips, and accordingly they possess intelligence. Women have narrow shoulders and broad hips. The way they were created indicates that women ought to stay at home, for they can keep house and bear and raise children," Luther said.

It seems that the institutional churches have paid more attention to the words of these church fathers than to the detail of the Scriptures.

We speak of "God, He," but there is a feminine view of God also if you read the Bible closely. In the first creation account given in Genesis, it says that the male and female were created in the image of God.

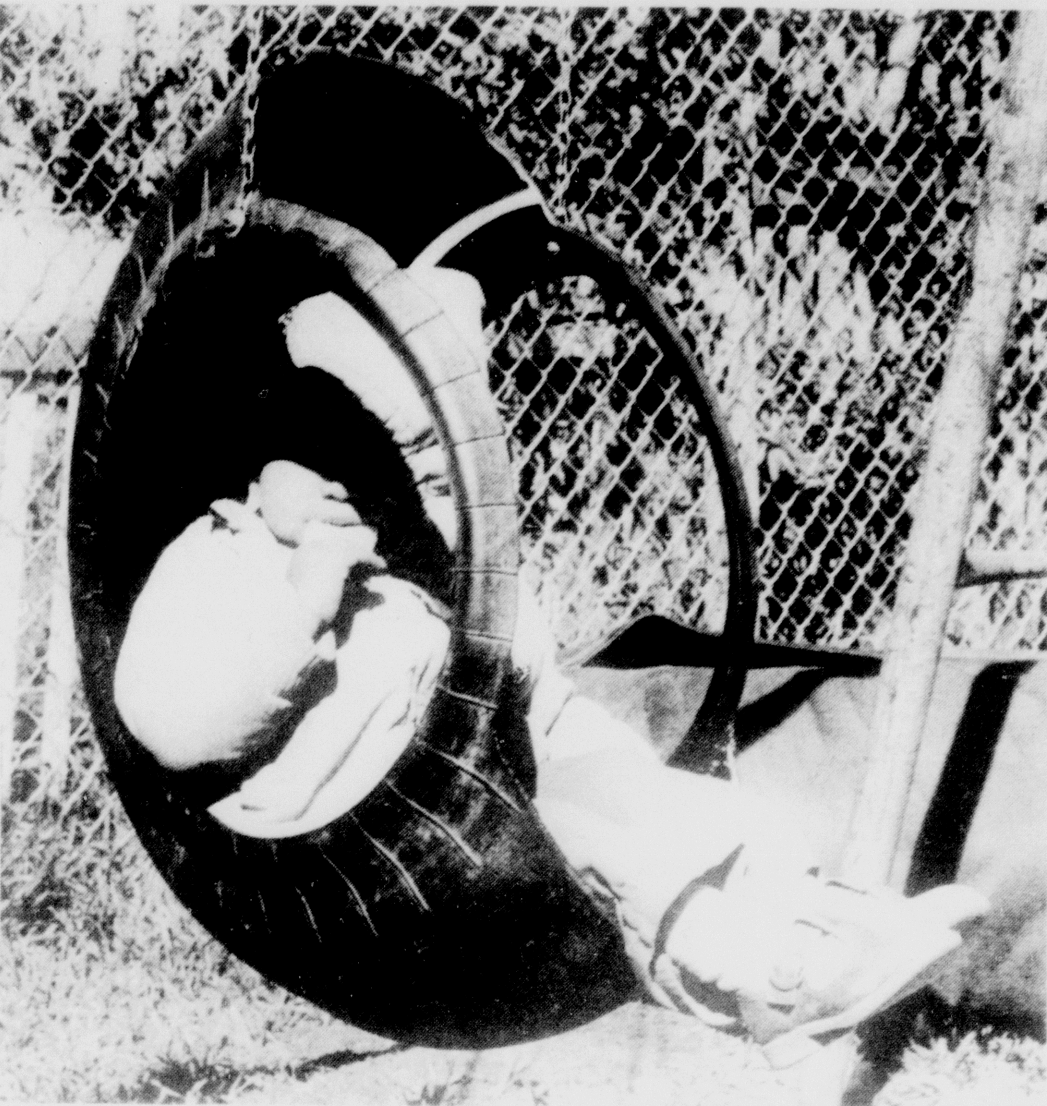

The femininity of God is also noted in the word "wisdom," which is spoken of as an entity of itself — a divine attribute — and the word is "Hokmah" which is of the feminine gender. Therefore, it is grammatically necessary to refer to Divine Wisdom as female. An interesting hot potato for the total male position.

The International Standard Bible Encyclopedia notes that "in almost all respects, women in the Bible appeared to have been considered the equal of men and to have discharged the same civil, religious and even military function. There are Sarah, Esther, Ruth, Hannah, Abigail, Tachel, Serah, Puah, and Tamar who played major roles in the unfolding story of revelation.

The majority of main-line Protestant denominations do ordain women. The Congregational body was the first to do so, but, since 1960, the percentage of the women they have elected to national boards and agencies has steadily decreased. Only one woman is head of a national agency for that denomination.

The subject of ecclesiastical structures are facing is what they call a matter of justice — confirming women as whole persons along with men. The church leaders see they have long followed society in treating women as inferior human beings — and to be barred from ordination perpetuates this tradition. This is the issue of the 11 ordained women of the Episcopal church.

The women when ordained said: "Women are learning to say, along with Peter and John, that they chose to obey God rather than men. When the church recognizes and acknowledges the fact that God calls human beings — men and women — to the ministry, human beings in the image of God, both male and female, then God's will can be done on earth as it is in heaven."

NEW PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT—This old tire was made into useful playground equipment by members of Future Farmers of America for the use of the children at the Hamlin Day Care Center. Thirty-four children are now enrolled at the center that will observe its first anniversary in July.

MORE GARDEN TIPS—

Prepare Soil Properly

Nothing can dampen the enthusiasm of the beginning gardener more quickly than a hard-to-manage soil. Home gardeners have more problems with unfavorable soil conditions than any other single item. So, the first item of business as far as gardening is concerned is to get the soil in shape says Kirby Clayton, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Few home gardeners in Jones County have ideal soil conditions, but the situation can be improved by adding organic matter. Material such as compost, peat moss, manure or sawdust can be added in large amounts. Organic matter will make heavy clay soils more mellow and easier to work and improve soil drainage and air movement to allow the soil to warm up earlier in the spring. On light sandy soil, the addition of organic matter helps hold moisture and nutrients in the plant root zone.

Proper soil preparation by incorporating organic matter also helps vegetable plants develop a sufficient root system which directly affects yields.

Enough organic matter must be added to physically change the structure of the soil, points out Clayton. At least one-third of the final soil mix should be some type of organic matter. To accomplish this, Clayton suggests spreading a layer of organic matter over the soil to a depth of at least two inches and then working it into the soil to a depth of at least six inches.

The best time to add organic matter to the garden is during the early stages of soil preparation.

When adding organic matter, increase the amount of fertilizer added to the garden soil to help break down the additional organic matter. Without additional nitrogen, a deficiency may occur. Nitrogen deficiency generally shows up as a yellowing of younger garden plants. For every 10 cubic feet of organic matter added, Clayton suggests applying an additional one-half pound of nitrogen. This means that if you apply 10 cubic feet of cotton burs and additional 5 pounds of fertilizer such as 10-10-10 should be added (5 x 10 = 50).

So, spend a little more time getting the garden soil into shape this spring, advises Clayton. The result will be increased yields and returns at harvest time.

CHINA TRADE

Lightweight Beef

Lightweight or forage fed beef is gaining consumer acceptance. This is due partly to the lower price of this product, according to Mrs. Nocy Wilburn, Assistant County Extension Agent.

In lightweight beef, there is a reduction of marbling and fat covering which affects flavor and juiciness. However, on a lean basis the nutrition is the same as grain fed or heavy beef.

The preparation and cooking of lightweight beef is similar to that of veal. Moist heat methods of cooking are recommended for less tender cuts of lightweight as well as grain fed beef. More tender cuts of lightweight beef can be prepared by dry heat methods of cooking provided the beef is basted with fat. Also marinades are recommended to enhance the flavor of lightweight beef.

A new free publication available from the County

Extension office explains the methods for cooking lightweight beef. You can obtain "Let's Cook Lightweight Beef" by calling Mrs. Wilburn, at 823-3801 or writing Box 688, Anson, Texas 79501.

Advice On Planting, Training Pecan Trees

Home gardeners should use care in planting and training pecan trees, emphasizes Kirby Clayton, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

After purchasing the tree, plant it as soon as possible in a well-drained, full-sun location. Trim all bruised or broken roots at planting time. Plant the tree at the same depth as it grew in the nursery row. Do not fertilize pecans at the time of planting, nor any time during the first growing season.

After planting, cut off one-half of the existing top, explains Clayton. As the tree begins to grow, select one strong shoot to grow upward and develop into a central leader. Prune all additional side shoots after they reach a length of six inches. This forces all of the growth into the central leader, which will develop into the framework of the tree.

Frequent irrigation will be needed during the first year's growth. However, do not overwater, cautions Clayton, as this tends to force oxygen out of the rooting zone and stops growth.
